[illegible] people to learn to write, [illegible] only to write more frequently [illegible] emphatically called the [illegible] of the People." The young [illegible] letter writing, because [illegible] postage will oppose no obstacle [illegible] correspondence. It will create [illegible] thought, reflection, and observation [illegible] them to examine more [illegible], the language they use [illegible] their thoughts. Lord Bacon [illegible] reading makes a learned man, [illegible] man, and writing a correct [illegible]

[illegible] being all the letters [illegible] into the Post Office. The [illegible] postage [illegible] 5 cents for 30 miles and [illegible] 5 cents for any distance [illegible] it is proposed to con[illegible] the postage is unpaid. This [illegible] reduction. Five cents [illegible] the letters on short distance into [illegible] Post Office [illegible] will still be sent by [illegible] private expresses. Millions [illegible] by private expresses [illegible] of conveyance, because the [illegible] pay [illegible] cents. Who, for example, [illegible] his letters from New York [illegible], Williamsburgh, Jersey city, [illegible] Post Office, and pay 5 cents [illegible] to the Letter Carrier, [illegible] carried and delivered [illegible]? The Post Of[illegible] are but little over a mile [illegible] narrow river. This [illegible] like manner upon other [illegible] adjoining towns. It is pretty [illegible] tenths of the letters passing [illegible] are now sent by private [illegible], which, it is said 240 leave B[illegible]. Should the rates be re[illegible] all those letters [illegible] through the Post Office, in preference [illegible] other mode of conveyance. [illegible] of postage, which will increase [illegible] letters and consequently [illegible] revenue.

When [illegible] increased the number of letters in Great Britain [illegible] from 76 to 356 millions [illegible] Cheap Postage. What [illegible] the letters in our own Post Office, [illegible] millions in four years?— [illegible] of the rates of postage. What [illegible] and thousands of our people, who [illegible] left home, to travel?— [illegible] fare on our Railroads, Steamboats and [illegible]

Why [illegible] published in the United States [illegible] newspapers, periodicals and pamphlets [illegible] all the world beside? It [illegible] their cheapness. Every person must be aware that [illegible] principle in trade and commerce [illegible] an article of utility and [illegible] in price, it increases the demand [illegible], and this increase of demand augments the profits. This is further illustrated in the [illegible] Rail roads, Canals and Ferries. M[illegible], former Comptroller of the State of New York, has stated that the reduc[illegible] the canals of that State, was [illegible] increase of revenue. And M[illegible] of the Hoboken Ferry, New York, who was authorized by law to charge twelve and a half cents each passage, reduced [illegible] six cents and realized a greater [illegible] than when he charged twelve and a half cents. He has recently reduced the price [illegible] and will no doubt find his Ferry [illegible] productive than under either of the former rates.

Take another case in point, one that is under our daily observation. We allude to the Union Line of Omnibuses, running from the Capitol to Georgetown. The proprietors, we learn, established this line only about one year ago, with but nine coaches, leaving the Capitol once in every eight minutes. They reduced the fare to six cents, that being only half the amount charged by the old line. They have now seventeen coaches, leaving every six minutes, with an increase of business so great that the company has resolved to increase the number to twenty-five, so as to leave every four minutes.

The petitions referred to by your Committee not only ask for a uniform rate of two cents, but that the postage should be paid in advance, or prepaid. They do not ask for two rates, nor, that if the postage is not prepaid, that the innocent receiver of the letter shall be mulcted in a penalty of five cents, in consequence of the neglect for impertinence of the sender. They have asked, that in all cases, the postage on letters should be pre-paid. Nor is there any thing strange or difficult in adopting this measure. Under the present law, no circular or transient newspaper can be sent through the Post-Office without being pre-paid, and the postage on all newspapers is required to be paid in advance. Why should not the postage on letters, when reduced to this low rate, be required to be prepaid, as well as circulars and newspapers?

There are various advantages resulting from prepayment, which will suggest themselves to those who reflect on the subject. It will prove a saving on dead letters to the Post-Office Department of at least $300,000 per annum; it will be a saving of time and labor to the Post-Office, especially if stamps are universally used, as they will be if pre-payment is required; it will be a guarantee both to the public and the Department, that the postage is paid; for the sale of stamps would be the simplest and surest mode of collecting the Post-Office revenue, as well as a great convenience to those who do business at the Post-Office.—The loss of time in paying for letters received or deposited, in our large towns, is a severe tax upon men of business; whereas pre-payment by stamps would effectually obviate this inconvenience. Every Postmaster should be required to have on hand stamps for the use of the public.

An objection to this low rate of Postage has been made, because in many sections of our country copper coins are not in use, and therefore there would be an inconvenience in paying the postage. To obviate this difficulty, it has been proposed to have a small silver coin made for the purpose. A three cents coin has been proposed, provided the postage is reduced to that rate. There are however, objections to the use of a three cent coin, which will suggest themselves to those who reflect on the subject. A three cent coin is not the aliquot part of any of our present coins. Six, and twelve and a half cent coins are of foreign denomination, and are being fast banished from use, as not possessing the intrinsic value for which they are passed. There is no American coin in use for which a three cent coin can be changed, without the use of cents, so that to adopt this denomination there will still be a necessity for the use of copper coin. You cannot change a dime, or half a dollar, or a dollar, with three cent coins; to give the full change, cents must be used. But to a two cent coin there are but few of these objections. A two cent coin could be alloyed sufficiently to make it nearly the size of a five cent piece; and if it were found necessary, a hole could be perforated in the center, which would distinguish it from our present coin of five cents.

CHICAGO
BRASS & BELL FOUNDRY.
H. W. RINCKER,
No. 198 Randolph street, Chicago. Also on Canal street, opposite Foss's Planing Mill.

THE Proprietor of this establishment is now prepared to cast BELLS of all sizes. He would particularly invite those who wish to purchase Church Bells to those of his manufacture. His Bells will be sold on as reasonable terms as they can be purchased from the east, or from agents of eastern establishments. They will be sold cheaper, in fact, because he can make as good a Bell, that will give as large a volume of sound, as those of eastern manufacture, with one-fourth less weight of metal, and this proportion of money is thus saved in the purchase of his bells. He warrants them not to break for one year with proper usage, and should one fail or not prove to be as good as represented, it may be returned to his shop, and be made good without expense to the purchaser, by a re-cast; or be replaced by a new one. If one should break at any time during his life, he will re-cast it for half the expense of casting. Western people will see the advantage in dealing with a western man, and patronizing western interests.

Mr. Rincker is a German, a bell-founder by profession, and he is confident that he thoroughly understands his business.

He will cast bells to any tone or key that may be desired. He can also cast his bells to chime in harmony. Heretofore the chiming bells used in this country have been brought from Europe, but he is able to make them as correct and musical in tone as any that may be imported.

His bells have taken the premiums at the two last Fairs of the Chicago Mechanics Institute—the last Fair awarding him a Gold Medal. The following is a copy of the Report of the Committee on the Bell submitted for inspection in the Fair of May, 1850:

Article 11, Class No. 6, Church Bells.

A Bell of 740 lbs. by Mr. H. W. Rincker, of this city, is well made and a smooth casting. It exhibits a great deal of skill in its manufacture; has an admirable tone, and throws a greater volume of sound than any bell with which we are acquainted of its size. A trial was had between the above bell and one manufactured by Mr. Meneely of Troy, N. Y., the latter being considerable heavier of the two, [955 lbs] The arrangement for ringing Mr. Ricker's bell was temporary, and by far inferior to that of Mr. Meneeley's, notwithstanding which we believe that there was but little difference in the distance that the two bells could be heard, and that the tone of Mr. Rincker's bell was by far the most pleasing to the ear. A Gold Medal was awarded to Mr Rincker.

The above is a true copy of the Report.
G. R. SLOAT,
Secretary of the Board of Directors of Chicago Mechanics' Institute.

H. W. RINCKER is also prepared to do all kinds of BRASS WORK, CASTING and FINISHING, on short notice, and in good style; such as Machinery, Magnetic Machines, Physical Instruments, Soda Fountains, Beer Pumps, Stop-Cocks, Oil Globes, &c.
Also heavy Copper Work, for all purposes.

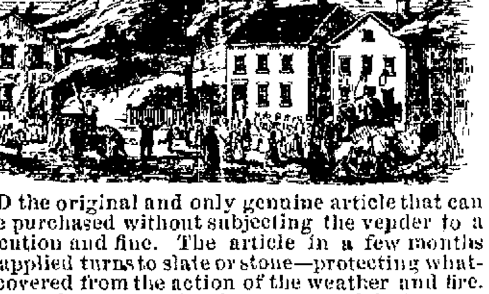
BLAKE'S PATENT
FIRE PROOF PAINT.



AND the original and only genuine article that can be purchased without subjecting the vender to a prosecution and fine. The article in a few months after applied turns to slate or stone—protecting whatever covered from the action of the weather and fire. It has now been tested by the severest trials for more than six years, and in every case the action of the weather seems only to indurate and render the coating more and more permanent; in no instance has it been known to crack, cleave off, or waste by time. I insert a statement of more than twenty of the first men in Sharon, Ohio, in the vicinity of the mine, who have not only witnessed the durability and permanency of my Paint, but the perfect worthlessness of all the other counterfeit stuff got up there, and thrown into the market and called Fire Proof Paint.

STATEMENT OF ITS DURABILITY.

We have seen a house that was painted with Fire Proof Paint, by Mr. Blake, as an experiment, nearly six years ago, and find it now like a STONE, the action of the weather having no other effect, where well applied, than to turn it to SLATE.

We have also seen a substance got up and sold by different persons, called "Drab and Fire Proof Paint," which SPOTS and FADES so badly that the buildings we have seen covered with it in a few months present such an appearance that no person, we believe, after seeing these, would use it if given to them. We consider BLAKE'S PATENT FIRE PROOF PAINT the ONLY Fire Proof Paint that is made in this country worth using.

I insert Certificates of all the Insurance Companies of Akron, Ohio, where the Paint is best known, and has in several fires been tested and proved to stand more heat, before giving way, than tin or zinc.

CERTIFICATES.

Akron, Ohio, May 22, 1850.

This may certify, that we have been acquainted with "Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint" for some years, and are well assured that it is really what its name indicates—FIRE PROOF. We consider it better fire-proof than tin or zinc, and will insure buildings covered with it a much lower premium than those covered with the above mentioned metals.

ITS USES.

It is impossible to enumerate all the uses to which this valuable article may be applied. We will, however, mention some of the more prominent. It is now being used with great satisfaction for the following purposes: For roofs or sides of dwellings, particularly cottages, as the chocolate is just the color for the sides; for manufactories, foundries, mills, machine shops, steamboat, car and locomotive decks, railroad depots and bridges, and all buildings near railroad tracks; it is invaluable in protecting from the almost constant showers of burning cinders and falling flakes of fire from the engine; for all kinds of iron fences either plain or ornamental; in fact for all kinds of iron work, as it has a very strong affinity for the different metals, forming, in a few months a perfect enamel, becoming nearly as hard as the metal itself, and the longer on the harder it becomes, and never cleaves off; for old or new roofs it is superior to any substance ever before found; in fact, every thing for which you wish to protect from FIRE, WEATHER, or WATER, it is a desideratum sought for years, but never before attained. This most valuable substance has now been so long tested, and has given such universal satisfaction, that there is in fact but ONE OPINION of its utility where best known, as it is now between six and seven years since the first was tried; and where then applied is now like a STONE.

Look out for worthless Counterfeits.

Within the last two years, or since the nature of my Paint has been known, and since it was patented, there has sprung up more than a hundred different Counterfeits, most of them no better than dirt from the street, or clay from the bank, calling it all good Fire Proof Paint. The public will see that it cannot be that it will make the genuine artificial Slate or Fire-Proof Paint; if so, it would be an infringement of my patent, the which has been tested and settled by men of the highest legal attainments in the country.

HON. DANIEL WEBSTER'S OPINION OF THE PATENT,
And the Decision of the Referees settles the question of its VALIDITY beyond a doubt!

I was about commencing a suit last May against an agent in New York, who was selling paint in violation of my patent, for a party in Ohio, but an arrangement was finally made to submit the case to a board of the best judges of the patent laws in the city of New York—as a decision from such a board would be far more satisfactory than that of a common jury—we therefore selected the Hon Chesselden Ellis, former member of Congress, and Charles M Keller, Esq., who had been seventeen years in the Patent Office at Washington, but is now counsellor at law in the city of New York, and attends to patent suits only, and is considered as good a judge of the patent laws as any in the country, who, after a careful examination, close their decision as follows:

"We are therefore clearly of the opinion that Mr. Blake's Letters Patent are valid, and that any one who prepares this earth in any manner substantially similar to the mode described and applies it to any of the purposes enumerated in this patent, is liable to him for any damages he may sustain, which damages he can recover at law.

All the varieties of earth described in his patent, varying simply in the ingredients, or their proportions, which merely vary the color, are covered by his patent.

C M KELLER, 47 Wall street, New York,
CHESSELDEN ELLIS, No 3 Nassau st., N. Y.
New York May 21, 1850."

In order that the public might have the benefit of the opinion of some one whose reputation was known throughout the country, we therefore on the 25th of May, 1850, submitted the patent to Hon DANIEL WEBSTER, to obtain his opinion as to its validity—he closes as follows:

"I have no doubt whatever that Mr. Blake's patent is good and valid; that it protects him in the sole preparing, making, using, and selling the Artificial Slate, or Hard Paint; and any person who shall make, prepare, sell or use his article, or any article formed, essentially, from the same material, and by substantially the same manner of preparation and treatment, is liable to him for an infringement of his right, and answerable in damages, according to the provisions of the Patent Laws of the United States. DANIEL WEBSTER.
Washington, May 25, 1850.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Every person therefore who DEALS IN or USES the PATENT FIRE PROOF PAINT, bought of others, will do it with their EYES OPEN, and at their own PERIL! and must not complain when compelled to pay me for infringing on my Patent. They will also see by the Certificates that no Fire Proof Paint manufactured in this country is worth using, except my "Patent Fire Proof." Persons therefore purchasing from others, either get a WORTHLESS ARTICLE, or subject themselves to a prosecution and fine.

I THEREFORE GIVE NOTICE TO ALL, that I have instructed my agents throughout the country to take the NAME and RESIDENCE of every person who DEALS IN or USES the Patent Fire Proof Paint, except bought of me or my Agents, as I shall hold them to a strict accountability, and shall call upon all such to SETTLE WITH and PAY ME for thus infringing upon my patent, and in case they REFUSE, I shall commence SUITS AT LAW AGAINST THEM. The public therefore, to be SAFE, should purchase from ME or my AGENTS, and see that every barrel is marked, ever before offered for sale in this city, and at prices never heard of, but will be sure to reach the purse of the purchaser. To give a full list of articles which the stock consists of would be a Monopoly of News Prints,

which is against the creed of this old store; therefore it must suffice to say that it consists of every thing that is necessary for the practising physician, or any family in need of medicine; the Surgeon, the Painter the Glazier, or Dyer; besides all the popular which are known and in use. Also a great variety of SWEETMEATS and EXTRACTS, for cooking, &c.
PATENT MEDICINES
The proprietor of this extensive establishment does freely acknowledge that he likes a good round profit as well as any other living man, but avarice stepping aside, gives place to common sense, and says that stock of Goods must be sold, for cash, as low as at any other Drug Store in the city. THE
POPULAR CYCLOPEDIA OR
MODERN DOMESTIC MEDICINE
BY KEITH IMRAY, M. D.
Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, and Licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh.
AMERICAN EDITION.
One large Octavo Volume, substantially bound
THIS work presents a concise but clear view of the predisposing causes, premonitory signs, and distinguishing symptoms of disease, with the methods of cure recommended by the most eminent physicians.
The best modes of employing the medicines in general use are faithfully described; and the most approved rules for regulating diet and regimen during the periods of disease and convalescence, are amply furnished.
The art of Preserving Health, embracing special Treatises on Diet, Air, Temperance, Bathing, Clothing, and Exercise, is fully considered.
The publishers of the American edition have introduced Dr. Imray's work with short, illustrated, very complete sketches of Anatomy, Physiology and Surgery; and with directions for the domestic management of the sick, the preparation of their food, and the economy of the sick room, &c. They have also annexed a comprehensive MOTHER'S MEDICAL GUIDE, containing directions for the preservation of health during pregnancy, rules for managing the lying-in-room, and the treatment of infants, including air, clothing, exercise, &c. Also, a large number of valuable prescriptions, arranged for ready application; and a very full classified table of medicines, exhibiting their medicinal properties, doses and uses.
The Index is unusually complete, making the whole a most perfect and valuable work for families.
It can confidently be recommended to physicians and apothecaries, as well as to the public, as a book that will be found singularly convenient for ready reference.

A TIGER SLAYER.

The morning after our arrival it was signified to us that there was a large royal tiger in a nullah near the town. This was soon confirmed by the appearance of a native who was preparing to attack it single handed. The man was short, not robust, but compactly made, sinewy and active, having a countenance remarkable for its expression of calm determination. He was entirely naked above the hips, below which he simply wore coarse linen trowsers, reaching half way down the thigh. He was armed with a ponderous knife, the blade of which was exceedingly wide and thick, with an edge almost as keen as a razor. On the left arm he bore a small conical shield, about eighteen inches in diameter, covered with hide, and studded with brass, having a point of the same metal projecting from the boss. My companion and myself walked with this intrepid little Hindoo to the lair of the sleeping foe. We were the less apprehensive of any personal danger, knowing that the tiger is a very cowardly animal and seldom makes an open attack, and further, that it always prefers attacking a native to a European. We soon reached the nullah, and discovered the sleeping beast at the extremity basking [illegible]. Its proportions were prodigious. I have never seen one larger. The nullah was narrow, and at the bottom perfectly free from impediments, so that the area was more than usually favorable for the operations of the undaunted tiger slayer. As soon as we reached the spot, the man boldly leaped into the hollow, at the same time uttering a shrill cry in order to rouse the enemy from his slumbers. Upon seeing his resolute aggressor slowly advance, the animal raised itself upon its fore legs with a terrific howl.

As the little Hindoo continued to approach, which he did slowly, and with his dark eyes intently fixed upon the face of his formidable foe, the tiger rose to his full height, and began to lash his sides furiously with his tail, yet it evidently appeared to be in a state of embarrassment. Still the man advanced deliberately and undauntedly, the uneasiness and rage of the brute evidently increasing with every step. At length it crouched evidently with a determination to make its terrific spring. The man then stopped, when the tiger paused, turned down its head, and uttering a horrible [illegible] between a snarl and a howl, made one bound forward, and sprang towards its victim, who, instantly bent his body, received the animal's paws upon his shield, dashed the knife into its body, and fell under, but almost entirely clear of the extremities of his wounded foe. The creature turned upon its back, and the little Hindoo regained his feet in an instant, taking the prostrate tiger, with astonishing quickness and precision, a desperate stroke upon the throat, which completely severed the windpipe, at the same moment springing with the rapidity of thought, beyond the reach of the monster's claws. The tiger died almost immediately. When assured that it was positively past doing any more mischief, though it had done much in its time—we descended into the nullah. The gash in the animal's body was terrible. The lower part of the heart had been wounded, and the intestines cut through. By way of trophy, the victor deliberately skinned the dead enemy, which he soon accomplished, and with great dexterity, and then returned in the pride of power, with the token of victory upon his shoulder. He obtained from us two or three pagodas, which he considered a most liberal reward for his bravery.—East India [illegible]

CIVILIZATION NORTHWARD.—The conveniences of a city are gradually increasing in Saint Paul. The confectioner, the ice cart, the milkman, are among the new conveniences here, and last and not least, a regular market for fresh meat.—Minnesota Pioneer, 12th instant.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.—The whole of the immense area in Hyde Park assigned for the exhibition in 1851, is now enclosed with railings about eighty feet high, and men are busily engaged in staking out the ground for the foundation.

Cincinnati, Sept. 13.

The steamer Julia was sunk going up the river with a cargo of a 100 tons of government goods on board. The boat will be a total loss; a portion of the cargo will be saved in a damaged condition.

Boston, Sept. 13.

The Schooner Canton arrived at Dorchester, this morning, with four men on board whom they had rescued from a raft. They were part of the crew of the bark Messenger, from St. Johns, New Brunswick, to Liverpool. Ten of the crew, including officers, were drowned, the vessel having been capsized in a squall.

—A public dinner was lately given in Augusta, Georgia, to the Hon. Crawford, late Secretary of War. One of the toasts not given on the occasion, was:

"A Galloping race and a Galphin claim,
Put Galphin in a galloping through;
Oh what is [illegible] but a name
Unless there be interest too?

"There is a [illegible] and there's Principal,
But the first no interest bears,
While the last is the ever blooming Gal,
For Crawford and Galphin's heirs."

A WIFE WITHOUT MARRIAGE.—In a recent bigamy case in Brooklyn, N. Y., before Judge Rockwell, he decided that a man living with a woman and calling her his wife, is to all legal purposes her husband, even though not actually married, and may not only be made liable for debts and acts, but may be prosecuted and convicted, if he weds another female during the lifetime of his paramour.—We wish this decision could stand the test of the higher courts. It is but simple justice, and should be common law. So says the Buffalo Commercial.

ILLINOIS WINE.—Mr. Huff, of Belleville, St. Clair county, in this State, is manufacturing wine said to be equal to the famous Cincinnati wine. It is from the Catawba grape. We see no reason why the grape should not be cultivated to a great extent in this State. The climate is not surpassed by that of France or even of the more sunny Italy.—Chicago Tribune.

—It is said that while the cholera raged at Harper's Ferry, all the cats left the place.—They went in droves by night.

DAILY FREE DEMOCRAT.

S. M. BOOTH, : : : : : : EDITOR.

MILWAUKEE:

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, SEPT. 20.

☞ Copies of the DAILY DEMOCRAT can be had at Bird's; at Tanner's; at Seymour's, opposite the U. S Hotel; of the News Boys; and at the Counting Room, Holton's Block, (3d story,) Spring street, west end of the Bridge Price Two CENTS.

☞ Copies of the DAILY DEMOCRAT can be had at Mr. LOGAN'S BOOKSTORE, Spring street, 4 doors west of the American.

☞ Will somebody send us two or three good news-boys from New York. We want them to learn ours how to sell papers. Here's a fine chance to make a fortune.

PARTY.—No. 2.

We said, yesterday, that the governing power of the city is in the hands of a few.—The reason of this is, that the many leave the few to do their thinking for them. The leaders teach, as a cardinal doctrine, that you must sustain the party, and the nominee of the party caucus, right or wrong, and as a consequence, the only important question asked at the polls, is, who are the party candidates.

Then, again, we have a thousand voters, who always vote one way. The majority of them cannot read the English Language, and can therefore be reached only through their own papers, the conductors of which are strict party men, and understand Democracy to be, carrying out the decrees of the party caucus. Standing at the fountain head of influence, all the demagogues, who seek office, pay court to them, and holding the balance of power in every ward but one, they control the destinies of this city.

We would not have the rights and influence of any individuals, or class, curtailed, in the least, but we consider it a public misfortune, to any city, to have two or three political St. Peters holding the keys of political preferment, and opening and shutting the gates of office, at their will.

We record with pleasure, too, the fact, that there is a very respectable and increasing number of foreign-born citizens—intelligent, high-minded and patriotic—who act independently of such influences, and are governed by considerations of right—whose Democracy is a fixed principle, unchanged by the decisions of packed Conventions, and the vacillations of weather-cock politicians.

But it is nevertheless true, that to a large portion of this class, the American press is a sealed instrument, and the conductors of the German press, either do not understand that the genius of our institutions requires free discussion on all political questions—that a respectful hearing should be given to their opponents—or they are unwilling their readers should hear both sides, and judge for themselves. Such, we understand to be their course. And we know they have frequently refused to insert well-written communications in opposition to their views of policy. We are sorry it is so, but there is no remedy for it, that we know of, but time and experience.

Be the facts as they may, one thing is certain, that every consideration is made to yield to party; office, on the one hand, is made to cement and strengthen the party, and on the other, the political support of a few leaders is dependent on the contingency of office and pay. The results of such a state of things, we have worked out before us. The burdens of all this misgovernment, as usual, fall heaviest on the laboring classes. The system is both corrupt and corrupting. And the most corrupt class of politicians take advantage of it.

NAUTICAL.—We clip the following paragraph from the Wisconsin of Wednesday evening:

CHICAGO.—Yachting.—The new yacht was launched yesterday—said to be the most beautiful craft ever launched on the Lakes. She is sloop rigged, after the English fashion, (the only objection to which is the difficulty in handing and reefing a main SHEET of the requisite size.) She is to receive the name of the prettiest girl in Chicago. We hope the Company will pay us a visit, and bring her along.

"Shiver my tarry top-lights and top-gallant eye brows"—how salt! What wag has been making game of the marine items-man of our cotemporary? Perhaps the same individual that gave him the "points" in the parenthesis above can tell the sapient itemizer where the "cat-harping down haul" leads, or how to "take a sheep shank in a mizzen."—Sentinel.

☞ "You can buy a pair of Lynn boots for three dollars, and they will last you about two or three months, while our neighbor, Prof. Wilcox, will make you a pair for five or five and a half, that will last you the year around, and keep your feet dry, besides."—Madison Argus.

If Prof. Wilcox will send us a pair of such boots, (No. 8½) we should n't wonder if his fortune and ours would both be made. At least, we should like to live on such an understanding "the year around and keep our feet dry besides."

☞ BOGUS Five Francs and Dollars are in circulation around Watertown. So says the Chronicle.

A PAPER THAT IS A PAPER.—The Daily Free Democrat, whose expected publication at Milwaukee we announced a few days ago, has come to hand. The sheet is only of the size of our morning edition, but various in matter, sensible, humorous, witty, pious, whole-souled, and cannot fail "to go," and carry the people along with it. Friend Booth talks in this wise on the subject of principles:

[We omit the principles, as our readers have seen what we said on that subject.]

Them's our sentiments exactly. Go ahead, brother. We extend our ☞ in token of a hearty approval of your enterprise.—Chicago Tribune, 12th instant.

Thank you neighbor, we always did like you, and only waited a good opportunity to say so. An independent press, that shall advocate the interests of the people instead of politicians, is what is every where needed, and if rightly conducted must, sooner or later, succeed.

We are determined to merit success. It is for our citizens to say whether such a paper as we can furnish is worthy of being sustained.

☞ "We acknowledge the receipt of the Daily Free Democrat. Booth got up a perfectly independent, first rate weekly newspaper. Judging from the two numbers of the Daily which we have received, it will not be lacking in these two characteristics."—Washington Co. Blade.

☞ "The Milwaukee Daily Free Democrat is a neat and spicy paper published by our quondam friend Booth, at four dollars a year; tri-weekly, three dollars. He promises that it shall be readable and valuable to business men."—Fond du Lac Journal.

Why call us "quondam friend?" Thinking of your shabby treatment of us, eh? We harbor no enmities. Even our "elevated" Mayor, we should like to oblige—— to sign the total abstinence pledge and break off chewing tobacco. By persuasion only, of course.

☞ "The Free Democrat says that we decline to support Mr. Hobart. A mistake, friend; we have never declined to support Mr. H."—Washington Co. Blade.

If you did not do "that same" in your last week's number, we don't understand English. The Blade, this week, supports Hobart.

GOV. DOTY AND MR. HOBART.—We reckon neither of these gentlemen as personal friends, or enemies. Mr. Hobart is a young man of fine talents, good character, ambitious, and a strict party man, and would—apart from the slave question—make a good Representative. But no man can be trusted on the Free Soil issues, who adheres to the National Democracy, and obeys its decrees.

Gov. Doty is by far the most talented and influential man, and would do more for the interests of his constituents, in Congress, than any other man in the District could. He has been tried, and has shown that he holds his principles superior to the dictation of a slaveholding caucus.

The Assembly District Convention which appointed Mr. Hobart a delegate to the Waupun Congressional Convention, resolved in favor of the Baltimore Platform, and Cass as the next President.

For these reasons, we prefer Gov. Doty to Mr. Hobart.

☞ The Editor of the Argus has been picking figs in J. G. Knapp's garden, in that village, and can't tell the difference between the Madison fig and the Smyrna fig.

☞ Thompson and Miller, both of whom were denied a seat in Congress from Iowa, are canvassing for an election.

CONGRESS, SEPT. 15th.—Senate.—Civil and Diplomatic Bill reported. Bills introduced, to pay Father Ritchie, for breaking his contract for public printing; and to prevent slaves from wishing to run away.

Fremont's bill to appoint three Indian Agents for California, passed: also slave-trade bill, 43 to 19.

In the House, no change of tariff was adopted. A motion to reconsider, lost, 94 to 93.

☞ Senator Dodge, of this State, voted, Sept. 12th, in favor of Gov. Seward's motion to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia. Senator Walker did not vote.

☞ Fuller, Doughface, of Maine, it is thought, is re-elected by 100 majority.

CHANGE.—The name of the Post Office Wauonah has been changed to Portage City, and Thaddeus Dean appointed P. M. in place of C. H. Moore, removed.

☞ The Advertiser, and its kith made a great fuss because the Cazenovia Convention recommended the slaves to take their masters' horses to escape with, if necessary. The Court at Harrisburgh, Pa., has just decided that such an act is no stealing at all.

☞ Jack Roberts and Richard Jones were sentenced Aug. 24th, to be hung at St. Louis, Oct. 10th, for murdering Ephraim Hibler, a watchman who attempted to arrest them.

☞ H. C. Hobart, his friends say, did not vote for himself, but transferred his credentials to a proxy to vote for him. We see nothing wrong in his voting for himself if he represented the will of his constituents in so doing.

—The southern press still predicts disunion and nullification in Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Texas and South Carolina. Oh!

CITY ITEMS.

CHOLERA.—We have heard of two cases within a day or two.

TEACHING BOYS POLITENESS.—One of our news-boys yesterday went into the shop of a business man on East Water street, not a thousand miles north of Ludington's corner, and asked him if he would not buy a Daily Democrat. He replied, "Leave with your Democrats; if you come in again with your Democrats I'll kill you." Wonder if he treats the boys so who go there to buy sheep's pluck?

☞ MISS FREDERIKA BREMER is going to visit Milwaukee. We received our information from a friend who travelled on the boat with her to Detroit. She will be along in one or two weeks. She has friends whom she visits. Let her be appropriately received.

☞ We see that the "light of our countenance" is waking up our city cotemparies to do smart things. It won't do any harm to try, gentlemen, but it's no use!

MILWAUKEE SCHOOL-HOUSES.—In the First, Fourth and Fifth Wards, the FREE SCHOOL houses are nearly completed. The 2nd Ward school-house is in process of erection; the Third Ward house, we understand, is not yet commenced. Those that are up, are fine brick edifices, two stories high, with a basement half above ground. They will accommodate with ease each 500 scholars.—When they are finished, and the free school arrangements of the Commissioners and Superintendent are perfected, few cities in the Union will be able to boast of a more liberal system of education than Milwaukee.

CATHOLIC CHURCHES.—There are now four Catholic Churches in this city, and a Cathedral of immense size is being erected.

☞ Some rascal, not having the fear of the —— before his eyes, swung a large hewn timber across one of the streets in the First Ward, a few nights ago, which came near upsetting a buggy and spilling out the passengers.

☞ Professor RICHARD A. RICHARDSON is the man that can do up your shaving. You will find him on Wisconsin street, just above the Post Office. By the way, we've got a rich story to tell about the Prof. when we get a little leisure.

FORCIBLE EJECTMENT.—A new process of "Fieri Facias ad Faciendi."—An Irishman had leased from the owner for a term of years, a part of a lot in the First Ward, and had paid for the entire term in advance. The owner, becoming tired of his tenant, endeavored to get him off—first, by peaceable means, and then by force, but was unsuccessful in either, the lessee proving stronger in argument, and of more "bone and muscle." The owner then sold out to a big bully, who immediately entered upon the work of ridding the premises of their disagreeable occupant. Several set-to's have daily occurred to determine the disputed point, and more are expected.

For the Daily Free Democrat.

Billy always could spell clear up to the tip top of the hill of learning:

Their lived a perfict nabob, who was born in the year one, which was suposed to be a doctor, or rather an asistant for a steam practicioner in cabage leaves and pepper sauce, or even a little flour.

Build a fire Billy, you know how, don't you? O yes, if you please! JEXIBUS.

Jabe says if any body can make any thing out of the above, they can do more than he can. Perhaps "Billy" can.

☞ "Has a rumor got wings, pa?" asked a smart boy of his paternal relative.

"Not that I know of my son; why?"

"Wife, wipe that boy's nose!"

—Gov. Johnston has offered $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of Charles Burd, the jeweler, who was killed and robbed at the corner of Fifth and Gaskill sts. in Philadelphia on the 19th instant.

—John P. Bigelow declines being a candidate for Governor in Mass.

—During a fire at Independence, on the 2d inst., fifteen kegs of powder exploded, killing A. H. Kean, and damaging a number of buildings, including the new school house and the Presbyterian church.

—The whig convention, at Donaldsonville, Louisiana, nominated Judge C. Bullard for Congress, in place of Charles M. Conrad, the Secretary of War.

—An unpleasant difficulty has occured between Commodore Johnson and Lieut. Stanley, of the Navy at Charleston, in which a challenge has been passed, and some placarding done. If they fight let them be cashiered.

LAUGHABLE.—Political papers talking about principle.

SENSE AND NONSENSE.

A CONSISTENT SERVANT.—A very good lady in Boston had in her employ a young man from the country. On certain occasions he was instructed to tell any company who might ring at the door—'Mrs.———was not at home.'

One day John made this reply to an intimate friend of the lady, who shortly went away, leaving her card and promised to call again. As the card was handed to Mrs.——— she said:

"John, what did you say to the lady?"

"I told her you were not at home."

"Well, John, I hope you did not laugh?"

"Oh, no, ma'am," said John, "I never laugh when I tell a lie."

The wife of the Hon. Josiah Quincy, sen., died at their country residence in Quincy, on Sunday morning, at the advanced age of 80 years.

—"This hot weather has made queer work with Jones's vinegar," said Sam to Uncle Nathan. "He has about forty hogsheads on hand, and he thinks he shall have to get rid of it the best way he can; havn't you heard about it?"

"No, I have not heard anything. What is the matter, what is the trouble with the vinegar?"

"It is all sour."

"Sam, you will be the death of somebody yet."

—"You will find no weak claws in my argument," said the cat to the dog, when her talons hit his nose.

—Sam why am de hogs de most intelligent folks in de world? Because dey nose ebry ting.

—A miser gets rich by seeming poor; an extravagant man gets poor by seeming rich.

A MISTAKE.—Santuel having a confessional dress on to say vespers, a lady, who took him for a confessor, threw herself upon her knees and recounted all her sins. She then asked him for absolution.

"What, do you take me for a priest?" said Santeul.

"Why then, said the lady, quite alarmed, "did you listen to me?"

"And why," replied Santeul, "did you speak to me!"

"I'll instantly complain of you to your prior," said the enraged female.

"And I," said the poet, "am going to your husband, to give him a full account of your conduct."

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

DAILY FREE DEMOCRAT OFFICE,
Sept. 20, 1850.

We are glad to see from our country exchanges, that reasonable hopes are entertained that the damage by the severe rains of a few weeks ago, will not be as great as anticipated. Spring crops will turn out well.

The streets are not as lively to-day as they were yesterday and day before. A reasonable quantity of country trade is going on however.

We notice a good many teams loaded with goods, driving into the country, a sign that traders at different points mean to be adequately supplied with stock for the winter's market.

THE Proprietor of this old and well known Store, having made arrangements for a

by the purchase of an immense stock of every thing in the line, unusually large even for this Establishment, confidently invites attention to his stock, assured that for quality, cheapness, comprehensiveness, and care in selection, it cannot be excelled by any concern west of Buffalo. As the reputation of his establishment renders unnecessary the common practice of enumerating articles and affixing to them qualities both fabulous and ridiculous, he will merely assure his patrons that he has been unwearied in selecting his stock of entire purity, and having bought close and in large quantities, is enabled to defy competion in the sale of it.

TO CONSUMPTIVES

The Disease can be Cured!

READ THE FOLLOWING LETTER.

Fitch's Remedies Triumphant!

THE following letter, taken from and published in the Portage Sentinel, at Ravenna, Ohio, on the 4th of March last, has been handed to us for perusal. Dr. Fitch, to whom the letter is addressed, resides at 707 Broadway, in this city, and he has published a work called SIX LECTURES to gentlemen and ladies on the disease called Consumption. These Lectures can be had in a small volume for fifty cents a copy, on application to most of the bookstores, and are replete with practical and useful information to cure and prevent Consumption. The Doctor's book has some great and good qualities. It shows how Consumption is produced and how it can be cured, and also it inspires justly the invalids with HOPE, when such people are not unfrequently in the condition of Milton's fallen angels, "to whom hope never comes."

Give a sick person Hope, and his case is always half won. Dr. Fitch uses mechanical means and physical remedies, and is sparing in dealing out drugs and mineral medicines; but to the Letter, and it speaks what thousands of his patients have uttered:—

[From the Portage Sentinel.]

Dr. S. S. Fitch: Dear Sir—In looking over the history of the last two years of my life, I am filled with gratitude to God for his great goodness in so far restoring my health, and giving me back to my family, after all hope had fled, and they could only look on me as already entering the grave. It has ever been to me a self-evident truth that the all-wise Creator always works by means, and it gives me a great pleasure, my dear sir, to say, that your remedies for the cure of consumption were the means, "the only means," of my recovery, as will more fully appear by the following statement of my case:

First, my family nearly all Consumptive—my mother, brother, and also a large number of other relatives died of Consumption. From my childhood my constitution was slender, and for the last 25 years as inclining to Consumption.

At the age of 25 years I commenced preaching the Gospel, with but little prospect of living to the age of 30. Lungs weak, a constant hoarseness and hacking Cough, some expectoration, often night sweats, and habitual costiveness attended with frequent distressing nervous headaches. A change of climate from New York to Ohio operated favorably, and for 12 years I was able to act as Pastor of the Baptist church of Brimfield. In the winter of 1844 I had a severe attack of erysipelas fever, which very much injured my constitution, and left me in a decline. In the winter of 1846, I took the charge of a protracted meeting at Mantua, laboring night and day for four weeks, at the close of which I found my whole system entirely prostrated—my lungs so weak it was with difficulty I could speak so as to be heard. My friends and ministering brethren became alarmed, and earnestly advised me to stop preaching. But I did not realize my danger, and continued to preach two or three times each Sabbath during the summer. In September I took a violent cold, and at once found myself on a sick bed, with a hard cough, large expectoration of light frothy matter, daily chills, fever, night sweats, loss of appetite, pain in the chest, shoulders and limbs, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, &c. Tried the usual remedies, such as blistering, &c. to no benefit. I went down rapidly, with increasing alarming symptoms until the middle of November. All hope was gone, and the community considered me past recovery.

A copy of your Lectures fell into my hands, the reading of which rekindled a spark of hope. I lost no time in applying to you, and on the first day of December "of happy memory," received a full supply of your remedies. I followed your advice to the letter, and to the astonishment and joy of all my friends, my recovery was as rapid as had been my decline, so that on New Year's day I was able to visit my friends. I soon felt myself compelled to labor for the support of my family. During the summer I performed my usual amount of labor.

In October, 1848, I again found myself failing. I called on Dr. A. Jackson Squire. He decided I had a chill fever—gave medicines which soon relieved me. However, I imprudently went out to soon, which brought on a relapse. The disease concentrated its whole force on my lungs—my right lung till then was sound—but now both lungs were highly congested. Cough returned with great violence—lungs soon became loaded with thick heavy matter, without the power to throw it off. I was out of your medicines, but fortunately, I was able to borrow of one of your patients, one bottle of your Expectorant, one do. of Pulmonary Balsam, and a bottle of Antimucus Mixture. After taking the Expectorant a few days I raised large quantities of matter that would sink in water almost as soon as lead. The bottle of Expectorant saved my life. I immediately applied to you again—there was necessarily considerable delay in getting the medicines. My friends and physicians said there was no hope in my case, and I too felt that my time had come—made arrangements to leave my family—and how could I think otherwise? I had a hard Cough, raised large quantities of solid matter, distressing pains through my entire lungs, shoulders, bowels and limbs, daily chills and fever, night sweats, loss of appetite, flesh rapidly wasting away, and to crown the whole, swelled limbs and diarrhoea.

Your letters to me, dear sir, were full of kindness and encouragement. You said you fully believed I would yet recover. You did not misjudge. My recovery was slow, "but certain."

In May last, I felt anxious to see you. My health still very poor, many of my friends thought me presumptuous in undertaking such a journey alone. On your examination of lungs, you pronounced the entire front of my left lung and the top of the right ulcerated. This was no news to me; I had made the statement often to my friends which I found to agree with your decision. You also said my lungs were in a healing state. I now acknowledge my doubts at the time, but have since found you correct.

In October last, I was elected to the office of Recorder of Portage county. My political opponents said that writing would kill me, and some of my friends even feared it might prove true. I have now been in the office, writing from four to eight deeds per day, for four months, my health improving all the while. The secret of all this is, Sir, you have learned me how to take care of my health. I am often asked, "Do you expect to be restored to perfect health?" I answer all such, "I never enjoyed perfect health; I have now almost gone through the winter without any serious attack of the lungs, and by care I hope yet to live to the common age of man." Dr. Earl, of Franklin, not long since said to me, "Sir, you are almost a miracle in the history of disease."—Others have expressed themselves in the same manner. In conclusion I will say, no man feels a deeper interest in Consumptives than myself. To all such I honestly and conscientiously would say, "Try Doctor Fitch's remedies—try them faithfully—do not say you cannot follow his directions, but take hold of them perseveringly, and through the blessing of God you may yet live who would otherwise sink into an early grave."

In publishing the above statement I believe I am doing my duty to an afflicted public, and to you, kind Sir, as a benefactor; and it shall ever be my prayer that peace, prosperity and long life may be yours.

With sincere regard I remain yours, truly.
